

Firm strives to give best training

ENGINEERING firm BGB Innovation in Dysart Road, Grantham, which has four trainees on its apprenticeship scheme, was named employer of the year in the 50 to 250 employees category for Lincolnshire and Rutland.

Quality and environmental manager Bill Hemingway, who collected the award, said: "It was a proud moment for me to receive this award for the company. The award encapsulates all the hard work and commitment of everybody at BGB."

Managing director David Holt said: "We constantly strive to give our employees the best training, a nice environment and the greatest rewards possible."

Trainees on the apprenticeship course spend one day a week at Grantham College gaining NVQs at Level 2 and 3 in engineering operations.

Rob Nixon, manager of yes4business, said: "BGB have proven an exemplary employer throughout. They are truly helping to create a positive step for the engineering industry."
